

Akripol is Slovenia's leading company for the production and processing of polymers and production of cast acrylic sheets. The company's tradition goes back to 1974. Today, Akripol is a modern and successful company that produces high-quality functional products.

Cast acrylic is one of the most highly valued and versatile plastics. It can be produced with different characteristics to meet a variety of requirements, and has a high degree of light transmission. Due to its resistance it is an ideal material for all exterior projects.

Cast acrylic boasts elegance and color consistency. With its high transparency, it enhances the aesthetic appearance of a variety of objects and is an excellent material for interior design.

Development, manufacture and marketing meet the requirements of the international quality standard ISO 9001:2000. In 2011 Akripol has been rewarded for its two innovations by Chamber of commerce and Industry of Slovenia; golden award for innovation Aglas SoundStop PA6 Premium 30 sound barrier and silver award for Alux skylight with high isolation and easy-to-clean surface.

Akripol is distinguished for cooperation of its employees, their trust and team spirit. They are innovative and are developing their full potential.

Embrace the world in all its colors with cast acrylic.
